RICOH
imagine. change.

Finnick Group and Ricoh

Together with our collective of four companies, and now the partnership with Ricoh, Finnick Group brings together a powerhouse of design and print. This combination enables us to offer you a solution from beginning to end with complete control throughout.

Who we are...

You may want to cut your printing costs and reduce paper usage, but it is most likely that your main aim is to make office life easier and less stressful.

Ricoh and Finnick

Ricoh is not just an industry leader in the development and supply of document solutions, services and multifunctional print devices (MFPs). We are a global expert at enabling companies to transform the way they do business.

Our goal at Finnick is to understand what you do, so that we can recommend hardware and software that will help to streamline your business.

Ready for the future? The services you need today. The insights to prepare you for tomorrow.
